GUIDING PRINCIPLES

The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley will provide an outstanding education to the students of the region, the state, the country and the world. This education will be of the highest quality; it will be affordable, accessible, and innovative. The new university will transform Texas, and the nation, by becoming a leader in student success, teaching, research, and healthcare.

Goals and Guiding Principles

- Fully integrate next generation technology and customized learning to increase affordability and maximize student success.
- Promote access to higher education to a diverse student body to become one of the largest and most successful Hispanic-serving institutions in the U.S.A.
- Employ the highest quality faculty members and staff who pursue global excellence in teaching, research, healthcare, and service.
- Streamline academic and administrative programs to produce state, national, and world leaders who are bi-cultural, bi-lingual, and bi-literate.
- Develop programmatic strength in the areas of science, technology, engineering, mathematics, and health.
- Become a global leader in higher education, health education, bio-medical research, emerging technology, and prepare students to be lifelong learners.
- Pursue applied and translational research to address critical local, state, national, and global needs.
- Build on the excellent economic activity and strength of the State of Texas, and benefit from the State's leadership in the world.
- Provide a leadership role in fostering economic and community partnerships to help solve local, state, national, and global problems.
- Promote innovation and knowledge discovery with business and industry that will lead to job growth and improvements in the quality of the region's workforce.
- Build a hub for inventions and intellectual property that will lead to economic and community prosperity, and an improved quality of life for the region, the state, the nation, and the world.
- Serve as a "Gateway to the Americas" by cultivating partnerships with global leaders in education, health, research, and other strategic, high-growth industries.
- Leverage the size, strength, and excellence of the University of Texas System, and its fifteen outstanding institutions to shorten the time it takes to achieve these goals.

WELCOME TO THE RGV

THE RIO GRANDE VALLEY:

- The Rio Grande Valley produces an average temperature of 78 degrees, and fewer than 20 inches of rainfall every year. Outdoor activities such as golf, tennis, and swimming, can be enjoyed virtually year round.
- The Rio Grande Valley is the third-fastest growing area in the country, and the fastest growing region in the State of Texas. There are 1.5 million residents who call the Rio Grande Valley home.

STATE FARM ARENA:

- State Farm Arena is the home of the NBA D-League Rio Grande Valley Vipers. Well known artists such as Elton John, Janet Jackson, Shakira, and Aerosmith recently performed in the venue.

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND:

- South Padre Island is approximately 90 minutes east of the UTRGV Edinburg campus.
- South Padre Island is one of the most popular spring break locations in the country, attracting thousands of college students every year.
- The Travel Channel named South Padre Island as one of America's Top Beaches for Families in 2006.
- South Padre Island and its surrounding communities offer a variety of top-notch restaurants, parks, museums, fishing, and other attractions for visitors.
- South Padre Island has welcomed MTV on several occasions for their Spring Break hangout.

RIO GRANDE VALLEY

The Rio Grande Valley (RGV) is located at the southernmost tip of South Texas. It lies along the northern bank of the Rio Grande, and extends for a distance of approximately 100 miles. The RGV is also called El Valle, the spanish translation of "the valley", and occasionally referred to as "El Magico Valle del Rio Grande" ("The Magical Valley of the Rio Grande").

In 1836 Texas won its independence from Spain in 1821, and the RGV was disputed territory between Mexico and Texas. Texas claimed that the border with Mexico was at the Rio Grande River, whereas Mexico claimed that the border was at the Nueces River. This dispute was finally resolved in 1848 at the end of the US - Mexican War, with Texas being awarded the territory that is now the Rio Grande Valley.

The Rio Grande Valley of South Texas encompasses several landmarks that attracts tourists, and is primarily known for South Padre Island. Including other popular destinations such as Port Isabel Lighthouse, Laguna Atascosa National Wildlife Refuge, Santa Ana National Wildlife Refuge, and Bentsen-Rio Grande Valley State Park.

CITY OF EDINBURG

The City of Edinburg was founded on October 10, 1908 and was known as "Chapin". It lies at the epicenter of one of the most dynamic regions in North America, a region that is keeping pace with the speed of change. Edinburg is the county seat of Hidalgo, the seventh largest county in Texas and is home to the University of Texas Rio Grande Valley Edinburg Campus, the state's tenth largest public university. Edinburg is a pro-business community with an excellent quality of life, educational facilities and strong civic pride. It has been recognized as an All-America City three times by the National Civic League, placing it among a handful of outstanding communities in the nation.

Population: 83,014

CITY OF BROWNSVILLE

The City of Brownsville is the county seat of Cameron County, across the Rio Grande from Matamoros, Tamaulipas. Brownsville was made county seat of the new Cameron County on January 13, 1849, and a post office went into operation on February 3. Within a short time the town's population had increased to more than 1,000. Points of interest in and around the city include Fort Brown; the Charles Stillman Home; the sites of the battles of Palo Alto, Resaca de la Palma, and Palmito Ranch; the Gladys Porter Zoo; South Padre Island; and Matamoros. Brownsville is also home of The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley, Brownsville Campus.
